

Zen Dog

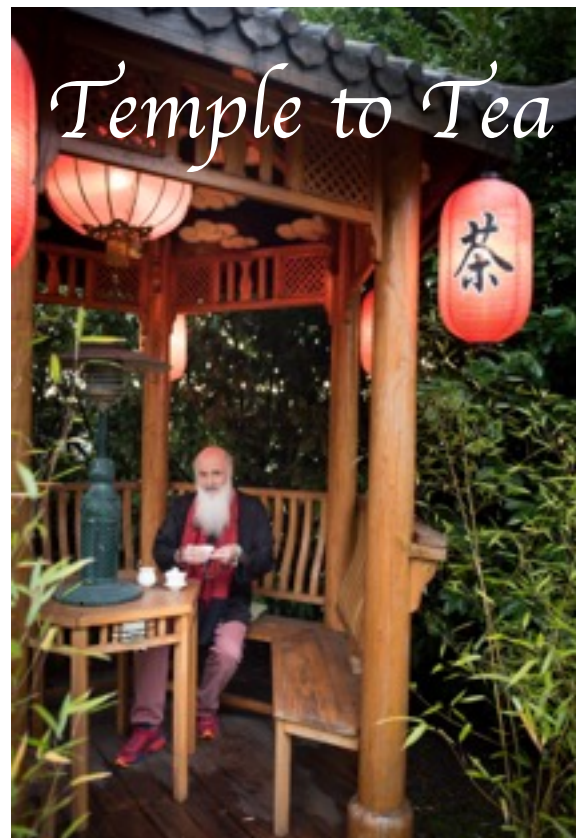

To Zen Dog; the owner of Zen Dog Teas and the Tea House Gallery, tea is a spiritual journey where everything becomes still - a silent Meditation, a Way to Celebrate Life.

At his Tea House and Gallery in Ballard, Zen Dog welcomes patrons to share friendship, community and tranquil experiences through Tea Tastings, Tea Dating and other events. Zen Dog sources only the highest quality all natural teas and flowers. He does not compromise; from branch to cup and uses only artisan well water. "Tea, like friendship is a gift". No wonder Seattle Magazine featured Zen Dog's Tea House as "One of 24 Hidden Gems and Perennial Favorites" in their January 2016 issue.

The Tea House Gallery opened in 2003. Patrons will enjoy Zen Dog Teas, art, tea ware, zen garden, koi fish pond and authentic pagoda from China.

Zen Dog Teas are also sold in select stores in Western Washington.

Temple to Tea

The Temple to Tea Pagoda is a premier spot to hold a tea party, gathering or small wedding, and is open between April and August by reservation. The surrounding garden and space provide a tranquil oasis for community to celebrate life, Zen Dog Teas, art, music and poetry. Will seat up to 40.

Ab'brew'viated Steep Guide

Tea blesses us with her flavor as well as with her Spirit. Flavor is extracted by applying proper brewing techniques, but also showing love and gratitude to the process. Loose leaf high quality tea can be steeped multiple times. The more it is steeped the more it has to share as the leaves open up. Temperatures listed are a general guide where to start. If you prefer stronger tea, brew it hotter and longer. If you prefer lighter tea brew it shorter and cooler. When brewing Gong Fu Cha, use short steeps in the beginning of brewing, and longer steeps towards the end. Have fun and share!
